

1 IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE STATE OF OREGON
2 FOR THE COUNTY OF WASHINGTON

4 Case No.: 24CR49043

5 STATE OF OREGON,

6 Plaintiff,

7 v.

8 ASHLE' ANTOINETTE PENN,

9 Defendant.

NOTICE OF APPEARANCE PRO SE;
NOTICE OF PRESERVATION OF RECORD; NOTICE OF SYSTEMATIC OBSTRUCTION OF ACCESS TO
PROCEEDINGS; AND OBJECTION
TO CHARACTERIZATION OF DEFENDANT'S STATUS

*Special Appearance Only;
Filed on the Papers*

13 I NATURE AND PURPOSE OF THIS NOTICE

14 Defendant Ashle' Antoinette Penn appears specially and pro se to establish a complete and 15 contemporaneous record on matters that have advanced, in Defendant's absence and without her
16 knowledge, in a manner inconsistent with her constitutional and statutory rights. This Notice neither
17 litigates nor waives any substantive claim. It states what the record shows, names what the record
18 requires this Court to see, and places Defendant squarely before this Court on her own terms.

19 The record of these proceedings, taken as a whole, reflects a single coherent pattern:
20 Defendant has not absented herself from this Court. She has been systematically denied access
21 to it. That distinction is not rhetorical. It is the organizing fact of this filing, and it will be the 22 organizing fact of the motions that follow.

23 This filing is a special appearance. Defendant does not submit to general jurisdiction and 24 does not waive any pending motion, jurisdictional challenge, or constitutional objection by this 25 filing.

26 II DEFENDANT HAS BEEN PRESENT — THE RECORD CONFIRMS IT

27 Defendant appeared at every proceeding at which she had counsel. She appeared at arraignment, at 28 hearings before the Honorable Brandon Thompson on case 24CR49043 and case 24CR27775, and

1 at the April 28, 2025 hearing at which, over her express objection stated on the record, her second
2 appointed attorney was removed from the case.

3 At the April 28, 2025 hearing, Defendant had independently prepared and filed both a
4 demurrer and a declaration because appointed counsel had represented she would file a demurrer
5 and did not. Defendant appeared. Defendant spoke. Defendant asked to preserve the record. The 6 Court told her she would not be prejudiced by the deferral of argument on those filings that day.
7 Defendant relied on that representation.

8 At timestamp 19:05 through 19:09 of that same hearing, the court clerk confirmed Defen-
9 dant's current address on the record. Defendant followed the OPDC check-in process as directed.
10 She followed every instruction this Court gave her.

11 She has attempted to participate in subsequent proceedings by every means made available
12 to her. She has been blocked at each attempt by mechanisms this Notice describes precisely.

13 A Defendant Is Not Evading These Proceedings

14 Deputy Rambin's December 29, 2025 affidavit in support of the arrest warrant in case 25CN05790
15 states that multiple deputies have attempted to contact Defendant at her last known address and 16 have been unsuccessful, and that it "appears that she is actively attempting to avoid contact with 17 law enforcement."

18 The docket does not support that characterization. Defendant appeared when she had 19 counsel. When she had no counsel, she was told she would not have a court date until new 20 counsel was appointed. She received no adequate notice of subsequent proceedings for the reasons
21 described in Section III below. She attempted to appear remotely when she became aware of a 22 hearing and was denied.

23 Defendant further notes that Deputy Rambin's "last known address" in the December 29,
24 2025 affidavit is 17548 NW Springville Road, Apt. 9, Portland — the address at which law
25 enforcement executed the May 10, 2025 warrant and at which Defendant was located. That is 26 not the address of a person avoiding law enforcement. That is a person's home. The record does 27 not support the characterization of evasion, and Defendant objects to it in each active case.
28

1 III DEFENDANT DID NOT RECEIVE NOTICE — THE MECHANISM IS DOCUMENTED

2 A OPDC Is an Administrative Placeholder, Not Representation

3 At the April 28, 2025 hearing, the Honorable Brandon Thompson explained at timestamps 17:28
4 through 17:50 that Defendant’s case would move to “OPDC doc” status — a queue designation
5 reflecting that no attorney had been assigned. The Court stated explicitly: “we don’t have a lawyer
6 for you right now.” Defendant was directed to call a check-in number and was told she would not 7 have another court date until a new lawyer was obtained.

8 The OPDC designation is an administrative queue. It is not an attorney-client relationship.
9 It does not constitute representation. It carries no obligation on OPDC’s part to monitor the docket,
10 attend hearings, or transmit notices to Defendant. Nevertheless, the court’s automated notice system
11 generated and routed hearing notices to OPDC in Salem as though Defendant were represented.
12 Those notices did not reach Defendant.

13 The practical consequence requires no inference: proceedings were scheduled, held, and 14 concluded on matters directly affecting Defendant’s liberty and the charges against her, and 15 Defendant received no notice of any of them.

16 B The Address of Record Was Altered When the Contempt Case Was Filed — and That Alteration
17 Propagated Across All Active Cases

18 On December 30, 2025, case 25CN05790 — the contempt action — was filed. That filing
19 introduced a stale address for Defendant into the court’s case management system: an address
20 at which Defendant has not resided for approximately ten years. Because case 25CN05790 was 21 the most recently filed case involving Defendant, the court’s system pulled that address forward
22 and applied it as Defendant’s address of record in her other active cases, including 24CR49043 and 23 24CR27775. Defendant was informed of this propagation mechanism by a court release officer.

24 The consequence was immediate and total: every notice generated in every active case after 25 December 30, 2025 was directed to an address at which Defendant does not live and has not lived
26 for approximately a decade.

27 This was not a routine clerical error. The address entered into case 25CN05790 on 28 December 30, 2025 was stale. It was entered into the most recently filed case. The system did
29 the rest. The timing is not incidental — the contempt case was filed, the stale address was entered,

1 and the notice blackout began, simultaneously, on the same date.

2 The internal contradiction that establishes the State’s actual knowledge of Defendant’s cur-
3 rent address is this: the arrest warrant in case 25CN05790 was executed at 17548 NW Springville
4 Road, Apt. 9, Portland — Defendant’s actual current residence. The State executed process at 5 Defendant’s correct address while the court system simultaneously routed notices to a different,
6 incorrect address. The State cannot simultaneously claim ignorance of Defendant’s location and 7 have executed a warrant there.

8 C A Court Release Officer Sent Notice to the Stale Address and Asserted That Sending Constituted Delivery
9 Christina Stiefer, Pretrial/Verification/Set Aside/Traffic Supervisor for Washington County Circuit
10 Court, transmitted a notice to Defendant at the stale address of record. When Defendant raised the 11 address problem, the officer maintained that the notice had been properly sent — treating the act of 12 transmission to a wrong address as equivalent to delivery. Defendant was instructed to surrender
13 herself notwithstanding the defective notice.

14 Proof of sending is not proof of receipt. An address that appears in the court system as a
15 result of a filing-date propagation mechanism does not become Defendant’s address by virtue of its 16 appearance there. Defendant preserves all rights arising from this defective notice, including the 17 right to challenge the legal sufficiency of notice of any proceeding held after December 30, 2025.

18 D Defendant’s Motion to Appear Remotely Was Denied; Her Absence Was Then Recorded as Failure to Appear

19 When Defendant learned that proceedings were being held in case 24CR27775 in connection with 20 the court’s sua sponte consideration of mandatory dismissal under State v. Roberts, 374 Or. 821
21 (2026), she filed a motion to appear remotely pursuant to Presiding Judge Order No. 343 (Remote 22 Proceedings), signed February 15, 2024, by the Honorable Rebecca D. Guptill, Presiding Judge.

23 That motion was denied. Defendant was then noted as having failed to appear at the 24 proceeding from which she had been excluded by the denial of the only mechanism by which 25 she sought to attend.

26 The sequence is this: Defendant sought access. Access was denied. The denial was then 27 converted into a procedural finding against Defendant. This Court is entitled to know that the 28 failure-to-appear notation followed directly from a denial of the means to appear.

1 IV ADVERSE PROCEEDINGS WERE CONDUCTED AFTER THE COURT REPRESENTED THAT
2 PROCEEDINGS WERE SUSPENDED

3 At the April 28, 2025 hearing, at timestamp 18:18, the Honorable Brandon Thompson stated on 4 the record: “it cancels all future hearing dates at this time.” The Court further represented that
5 Defendant would not have another court date until new counsel was appointed. That representation
6 was unqualified.

7 Defendant relied on it entirely. She had no basis to monitor for proceedings she had been 8 told would not occur.

9 Following that representation, and while Defendant had no counsel and no adequate notice,
10 the following occurred:

- 11 1. The court, apparently on its own, identified that the threshold for mandatory dismissal under 12 State v. Roberts, 374 Or. 821 (2026), had been crossed in case 24CR27775. Defendant
13 received no notice of this development. The first Defendant learned of any dismissal
14 proceeding was upon learning that the State had filed an objection to it.
- 15 2. The State’s objection rested on the assertion that Defendant had “fired” two lawyers. That 16 assertion is directly refuted by the State’s own conduct. At the hearing on the withdrawal 17 of Defendant’s first appointed counsel, the State initially opposed that withdrawal on the 18 mistaken belief that Defendant had sought it — and withdrew its opposition only upon
19 being corrected on the record. An entity cannot assert that a defendant fired her lawyer
20 while simultaneously having opposed that lawyer’s departure. The State’s own on-record
21 conduct at the Sidman withdrawal hearing is a judicial admission that Defendant did not
22 cause counsel’s first withdrawal. The withdrawal of Anna Lasher arose from a mandatory
23 conflict of interest under RPC 1.7, attributed by the Court to counsel’s circumstances, not 24 Defendant’s conduct — stated on the record, April 28, 2025.
- 25 3. A hearing was held on the State’s objection to the court’s sua sponte Roberts consideration.
26 Defendant was not present. Her remote appearance motion had been denied. A failure-to-
27 appear notation followed.
28

1 4. Show cause proceedings were initiated and an arrest warrant was issued in case 25CN05790,
2 based on a warrant affidavit whose predicate Defendant contests as void on its face. Defen-
3 dant received no adequate notice of those proceedings.

4 Each of these proceedings was adverse to Defendant's interests. Each was conducted during 5 a judicially-declared suspension of proceedings. Each proceeded without the counsel the Court had 6 represented would be obtained before further proceedings occurred. Defendant's absence from each
7 was not voluntary, was not a waiver of any right, and was the direct product of the circumstances
8 described in this Notice.

9 V THE COURT DENIED MOTIONS THE STATE DID NOT OPPOSE — THEN LEFT A DEMURRER
10 UNDECIDED FOR FOURTEEN MONTHS

11 The April 28, 2025 hearing was convened as an omnibus hearing. Before it was converted to a 12 withdrawal hearing, prior counsel Anna Lasher's motion to dismiss and motion to suppress were 13 before the Court. The State had not filed any written opposition to either motion. Approximately 14 two months after the April 28, 2025 hearing, this Court denied both motions — without written 15 findings, without a hearing at which Defendant could be heard, and without any opposition from 16 the State having ever been filed.

17 A court that denies motions the opposing party has not contested, without findings, without 18 hearing, deprives the moving party of a meaningful ruling. Defendant preserves the denial of those 19 uncontested motions as error.

20 Separately, Defendant's demurrer — filed and submitted to this Court on April 28, 2025 —
21 has not been decided. It has been pending for more than fourteen months. ORS 1.050 requires every 22 court to dispose of submitted matters within three months. That period expired on approximately 23 July 28, 2025. Eleven months have passed since that date without a ruling, an extension order, or 24 an explanation.

25 Under State v. Sanders, 280 Or. 685 (1977), a demurrer must be resolved before any 26 other pretrial proceedings are conducted. Pretrial proceedings — including the adverse hearings
27 described in Section IV — have been conducted in this case while the demurrer remained, and 28 remains, undecided. Defendant preserves all rights arising from that sequence.

1 Defendant demands a ruling on the demurrer within thirty days of this Notice.

2 VI THE RECORD DOCUMENTS EXTRA-JUDICIAL COMMUNICATIONS THAT INITIATED
3 ADVERSE PROCEEDINGS AGAINST DEFENDANT WITHOUT HER KNOWLEDGE

4 The record contains documentary evidence — in the form of a government email chain — estab-
5 lishing the following sequence:

6 On June 10, 2025, at 12:20 PM, Christina Stiefer, Pretrial/Verification/Set Aside/Traffic
7 Supervisor for Washington County Circuit Court, sent an email to Sheila Clark, P&P Services
8 Supervisor at Washington County Community Justice. That email states, in relevant part:

9 “Judge Thompson has forwarded an email to the Pretrial Release Office that you had 10 sent regarding Ashle Penn. I understand that you have knowledge that Ms. Penn has 11 been having contact with Mr. Barry Washington who is co-defendant in her criminal 12 case # 24CR49043. Her release conditions are to not have any contact with Mr.
13 Washington. Would you be willing to send our office an email sharing with us your 14 knowledge of the defendant’s contact with her co-defendant? Judge has requested
15 that we prepare a VRA Show Cause for this violation and I will need a little more 16 information to support the affidavit.”

17 The email chain establishes the following facts, each of which is documented:

- 18 1. Sheila Clark of Washington County Community Justice — a parole and probation services
19 supervisor whose agency supervised the person identified as Defendant’s co-defendant —
20 sent an email to the Honorable Brandon Thompson regarding Defendant.
- 21 2. Judge Thompson received that email. He forwarded it to the Washington County Circuit
22 Court Pretrial Release Office. He directed that office to prepare a VRA Show Cause
23 proceeding against Defendant.
- 24 3. These communications occurred outside the courtroom, outside the record, and without 25 notice to Defendant or any opportunity for her to be heard.
- 26 4. The same day — June 10, 2025 — Stiefer received a responsive email from a parole and pro-
27 bation officer at Washington County Community Justice summarizing contact information
28

1 gathered through supervised jail calls placed by the co-defendant. Stiefer filed her Affidavit
2 for Violation of Release Agreement in case 24CR49043 the same day, June 10, 2025.

3 5. Circuit Court Judge C. Colburn signed the resulting order directing Defendant to appear on 4 June 23, 2025.

5 6. The notice of that June 23, 2025 hearing was directed to 710 NW Autumn Creek Way, Apt.
6 L304, Beaverton, Oregon — not Defendant’s current address — at a time when Defendant’s
7 address of record had already been altered as described in Section III above.
8

9 Defendant notes for the record that the person identified in the release agreement as a
10 co-defendant is a person in whose supervision proceedings Defendant had been an active and 11 documented advocate, asserting constitutional challenges to supervision conditions on his behalf
12 directly to the supervising agency and to oversight bodies. Washington County Community Justice 13 was aware of that advocacy. The use of information gathered through that agency’s supervision of 14 the co-defendant, transmitted to a sitting judge assigned to Defendant’s case, outside the record, to 15 initiate adverse judicial proceedings against Defendant, is a fact the documentary record establishes.
16 Defendant places it in this record and reserves all rights arising from it.

17 Or. Const. Art. I, § 10 guarantees every person a remedy by due course of law for injury
18 done to them. Canon 2, Rule 2.9 of the Oregon Code of Judicial Conduct prohibits ex parte
19 communications on pending or impending matters. A judge who receives correspondence from 20 a parole supervision agency regarding a defendant in a pending case, forwards that correspondence
21 to his own court’s administrative office, and directs the preparation of adverse proceedings against 22 that defendant — all outside the courtroom and without notice to the defendant — is not a neutral
23 arbiter of those proceedings or of any proceeding that flowed from that directive.

24 Defendant does not ask this Court to rule on this issue here. She asks that the record reflect 25 what the documents show.

26 VII THE STIEFER AFFIDAVIT IS PREDICATED ON A VOID STATUTORY FOUNDATION

27 The Affidavit for Violation of Release Agreement filed by Christina Stiefer on June 10, 2025
28 invokes ORS 135.290 as the basis for contempt. ORS 135.290 authorizes punishment by contempt

1 of court only for breach of regulations imposed pursuant to ORS 135.260 — the conditional release
2 statute.

3 Defendant's release instrument, attached to Stiefer's own affidavit as an exhibit, is a Security
4 Release Agreement executed under ORS 135.265. A security release is not a conditional release
5 under ORS 135.260. The contempt remedy under ORS 135.290 requires a conditional release
6 predicate under ORS 135.260. That predicate does not exist here. The statutory architecture of the 7 contempt charge collapses on the face of Stiefer's own attached exhibits, without reference to any 8 fact in dispute.

9 Defendant preserves this statutory void-on-its-face challenge to the contempt proceeding in 10 full.

11 VIII REQUEST FOR JUDICIAL NOTICE

12 Pursuant to ORS 40.060 (Oregon Rule of Evidence 201), Defendant requests that this Court take 13 judicial notice of the following facts:

- 14 1. At timestamp 18:18 of the April 28, 2025 hearing, the Honorable Brandon Thompson stated 15 on the record: "it cancels all future hearing dates at this time."
- 16 2. At timestamps 19:05 through 19:09 of that same hearing, the court clerk confirmed Defen-17 dant's current address on the record.
- 18 3. The OPDC designation entered in Defendant's cases following April 28, 2025 reflects no
19 assigned attorney and no attorney-client relationship at any time material to the proceedings 20 described herein.
- 21 4. Case 25CN05790 was filed on December 30, 2025.
- 22 5. The hearing notice for the June 23, 2025 VRA show cause proceeding in case 24CR49043
23 was directed to 710 NW Autumn Creek Way, Apt. L304, Beaverton, Oregon, not Defen-24 dant's current residential address.
- 25 6. The arrest warrant in case 25CN05790 was executed at 17548 NW Springville Road, Apt.
26 9, Portland, Oregon — Defendant's current residential address, confirmed on the record at 27
28

1 the April 28, 2025 hearing.

2 7. Defendant's demurrer was submitted to this Court on April 28, 2025 and remains undecided.

3 The three-month period prescribed by ORS 1.050 expired on approximately July 28, 2025.

4
5 8. Approximately two months after April 28, 2025, this Court denied prior counsel's motion
6 to dismiss and motion to suppress in case 24CR49043. The State had filed no written 7 opposition to either motion at the time of denial.

8 9. Presiding Judge Order No. 325 expired January 3, 2025. Presiding Judge Order No. 350
9 became effective January 31, 2025, with grand jury orientation beginning that date. No
10 Presiding Judge Order authorized a grand jury to convene on January 14, 2025, as confirmed
11 in writing by Washington County Trial Court Administrator Richard Moellmer.

12 10. Deputy Rambin's supplemental report, dated December 27, 2024, states that it was possible
13 Defendant was not the suspect in the September 17, 2024 incident.

14
15 11. The indictment returned January 14, 2025 does not include the September 17, 2024 incident
16 or its associated valuation, which formed part of the basis for the original September 18, 17 2024 arrest and the original charging instrument.

18 12. Christina Stiefer's June 10, 2025 email to Sheila Clark states: "Judge Thompson has 19 forwarded an email to the Pretrial Release Office that you had sent regarding Ashle Penn...
20 Judge has requested that we prepare a VRA Show Cause for this violation."

21
22 13. The Affidavit for Violation of Release Agreement filed by Christina Stiefer on June 10, 2025
23 in case 24CR49043 attaches a Security Release Agreement executed under ORS 135.265 as 24 its supporting exhibit, and invokes ORS 135.290 as the contempt predicate. ORS 135.290
25 requires a conditional release under ORS 135.260. The attached exhibit is not a conditional 26 release.

27 IX PRESERVATION OF ALL CLAIMS AND OBJECTIONS

28 Defendant expressly preserves, without limitation and without waiver:

- 1 1. All challenges to the sufficiency of the January 14, 2025 indictment as raised in the demurrer
2 submitted April 28, 2025, including: improper joinder under ORS 135.630(2); failure to 3 state an offense under ORS 135.630(4); legal bar to the action under ORS 135.630(5); and 4 lack of definiteness under ORS 135.630(6).
- 5 2. All challenges to the validity of the January 14, 2025 grand jury proceeding, including:
6 the empanelment gap established by the Moellmer correspondence; the State's failure to 7 disclose Deputy Rambin's December 27, 2024 supplemental report before the grand jury
8 convened; the presentation of testimony that materially contradicted the sworn September
9 18, 2024 probable cause affidavit without correction; and the State's selective omission
10 of the September 17, 2024 incident after its own officer admitted the identification was 11 unreliable.
- 12 3. All challenges to the probable cause basis for the September 18, 2024 warrantless arrest,
13 including the substantial preliminary showing under Franks v. Delaware, 438 U.S. 154
14 (1978), arising from material misstatements in the probable cause affidavit contradicted by 15 the arresting officer's own contemporaneous and supplemental reports and by body worn
16 camera footage of the September 18, 2024 evidence pickup at Target.
- 17 4. All suppression claims as to evidence derived from the September 18, 2024 arrest as fruit
18 of a constitutionally defective warrantless arrest. State v. Hall, 339 Or. 7 (2005); Wong Sun
19 v. United States, 371 U.S. 471 (1963).
- 20 5. The claim for mandatory dismissal with prejudice under State v. Roberts, 374 Or. 821 (2026),
21 preserved in full. Roberts dismissal is the court's own obligation, triggered by the statutory 22 threshold. The State's objection — resting on the claim that Defendant fired two lawyers,
23 directly refuted by the State's own on-record conduct at the Sidman withdrawal hearing —
24 does not defeat that obligation. The clock has run.
- 25 6. The facial statutory voidness of the arrest warrant and contempt charge in case 25CN05790.
26 ORS 135.290 requires a conditional release predicate under ORS 135.260. The release instrument is a security release under ORS 135.265. No valid statutory predicate exists.
27
28

The warrant and contempt charge are void on their face.

7. All rights arising from the extra-judicial communications described in Section VI, including rights under Or. Const. Art. I, § 10, Canon 2, Rule 2.9 of the Oregon Code of Judicial Conduct, and the due process clause of the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution.

8. All rights arising from the defective notice mechanism described in Section III, including the right to challenge the legal sufficiency of notice of any proceeding held after December 30, 2025.

9. All rights arising from the denial of the motion to appear remotely and the subsequent failure-to-appear notation, including any right to challenge any order or finding entered as a consequence of Defendant's absence from proceedings she was denied the means to attend.

10. The right to a speedy trial under Or. Const. Art. I, § 10 and ORS 135.747, materially impaired by the State's deliberate avoidance of a preliminary hearing, its manipulation of the grand jury process, its continuation of prosecution following its own officer's admission of a possible wrongful arrest, and its conduct of adverse proceedings against an unrepresented defendant during a judicially-declared suspension of proceedings.

X NOTICE OF FORTHCOMING MOTIONS

This Notice is the first document in a coordinated filing package that Defendant intends to submit on the papers. The package will include, at minimum:

- (1) Brady and Giglio Violation Notice with Demand for Specific Disclosures — 24CR49043;
- (2) Motion for Declaratory Determination of Pure Questions of Law — 24CR49043;
- (3) Renewed and Supplemented Demurrer, Motion to Dismiss with Prejudice, Motion to Suppress, and Motion for Franks Hearing — 24CR49043;

1 (4) Motion to Compel Production of Grand Jury Transcript — 24CR49043;

2 (5) Motion for Mandatory Dismissal with Prejudice under State v. Roberts — 24CR27775; and

3 (6) Motion to Recall Warrant — 25CN05790.
4

5 Each motion will be accompanied by a proposed order. Each argument will be grounded in 6 the record this Notice begins to establish.

7 The record does not present close questions. It presents a prosecution that has continued past
8 the point the law permits, on a charging instrument returned by a grand jury with no lawful authority
9 to convene, predicated on an arrest whose probable cause basis the arresting officer himself placed
10 in doubt in a sworn supplemental report, sustained by proceedings held in Defendant's absence
11 through a notice system corrupted by a filing-date address propagation that began the same day 12 the contempt case was initiated, and initiated in part by extra-judicial communications between the 13 assigned judge and an adverse agency conducted outside the record without notice to Defendant.

14 Defendant is prepared to demonstrate each of these propositions, document by document,
15 to this Court. She is beginning that demonstration now.
16
